LETS TALK ABOUT "CONDITION RATING": I'm

having a very small problem with people "calling me out" on my "condition rating" of some of my items. I've been around for a while and I truly do see things a little different than others so here is the way it works:

- All condition ratings are mostly on appearance and not functionality. I state the functionality in other words in the ad.
- Excellent condition - Means it's very nice for the age of the item (like me :-)
- Great condition - A little rough considering the age of the item. Could be better.
- Good condition - Exactly what you would expect to find if you found one of these laying around somewhere. Nothing special.
- New condition - I cannot tell the difference between this one and a new one coming out of a box.
- Like new condition - I can see places where you can tell it was used a couple of times but it's so close to new I don't know what else to call it.

That is my rating system. And yes, it is MY rating system. That is why I have explained it to you :-)

ABOUT INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING: Write me for a rate. I do the best I can. Almost all international (this includes you CANADA!!) shipping takes a long time to get to you. ALSO, there is NO TRACKING NUMBERS AVAILABLE!! The post office does not offer tracking on packages (other than overnight) being shipped outside this country. ALSO, if you are international and you buy from me and I ship your item (which will happen within 2 days of your payment to me) and you decide you should bug the crap out of me about when your package will get to you (after I took the time to explain it here) you will get negative feedback. I don't care how quick you paid or how much you bid. There is no excuse for obnoxious behavior on your part and it will not be tolerated. If it sounds like I've had some trouble with international buyers it's because I have. I offer international shipping as a courtesy to foreigners. I am not required to do so by Ebay. I figure the rest of the world should have a chance too. Don't abuse my courtesy.

ABOUT THE SHIPPING CALCULATOR: Not using it again. You guys seem to like Flat Rate prices better than the calculator..

ABOUT MY EBAY AUCTIONS: READ THIS: Ebay is an auction site, not a retail store site. When you bid and buy from me you are buying the item at auction just like if you went to an auction in your town and bought. There are no returns. Items are sold "as is, where is" and all sales are final. NOW, if I sell you something that I claim works and it does not work when you get it I will fix it, one way or another. Other than that, you bought it, you own it. If you have questions about the item you need to ask BEFORE YOU BID and not when the item arrives at your house.

ABOUT TRACKING NUMBERS: Tracking numbers end up in your SPAM/JUNK/BULK email folder about 99% of the time. Check there before you write me and ask you to send you one.

ABOUT S&H - The cost of shipping varies greatly from one side of the country to the other and around the world. All you need to do is send me your zip code and I'll estimate the cost to ship to your location. PLEASE Do this BEFORE YOU BID!! Once you bid, YOU PAY!!

ABOUT AOL AND HOTMAIL USERS: The newest problem I am having right now is with those of you who use AOL or Hotmail to email me with question about my items. I have been accused many times of not answering emails. I even made the Ebay message board one day. Here is the deal... I SELL on Ebay. Does it make any sense to you why I would not answer your email? Why would I not want to send you more information that may enhance your decision to bid on my items? It doesn't make any sense, does it? If I emailed you and you did not respond I would automatically assume that you did not get my email. My attitude is quite different than most users, probably because I've been doing business on the internet for 12 years and understand very well how all this crap works. SO, especially for you AOL users (if you have AOL in your email address) every email I send you is being returned to me undeliverable as SPAM. I hate AOL! I am getting the same result from HOTMAIL in about 40% of the cases. I think that is because Hotmail users are slightly more advanced than AOL users and may know how to set their email up to allow messages that look like SPAM but are not SPAM to get through. If you think I've not answered your email YOU ARE WRONG! You simply cannot receive my answer. I want to sell you stuff :-)

Boring but if you have time you should read: In the past few months I've noticed a serious trend in attitude of the buyers on Ebay. I've been selling on Ebay for over 5 years. My goods are exactly the same quality as they have always been and so is my service. I sell the same way I always have and I sell for a fair price. If I didn't I wouldn't be selling on Ebay for as long as I have. For the most part, everyone I've ever dealt with are great people and always polite. As in any business, you cannot make everyone happy. Heck, some people will never ever be happy no matter what! :-)(you know the type). The disturbing trend is how nasty more people have become. Now a days I get emails from people who aren't even bidding on my items complaining about the way I worded an ad or that they bought one of what I'm selling and they don't like it. I also have received many negative feedbacks in the past few months. More than I ever have before. My quality of goods and service are still the same so I wonder what the problem is. I don't need to wonder too long. Between the war in Iraq, Katrina and the price of gas it's no wonder people are in a bad mood. Buyers, I sympathize with you. I hate all of those things too but they are not my fault. If you really want to be effective with your words email your congressman. Take it out on someone who can do something about the issues. I cannot do anything about those issues therefore, I email my congressman almost every week and vent really loud. As you can see, my emails to him also do no good but if enough of us do it..... I'm hoping the future will be brighter and we can all get back to our happy way of doing things. If you actually read this... Thanks! If you have an opinion about it feel free to email me but please don't yell :-)

Policy:

Although we do our best to provide our customers with high quality working units through these Ebay auctions, this is still an auction. Like all auctions, when a purchase is made the item is sold and shipped "as is".

I will ship anywhere it is legal for me to ship. If you are International and want to bid please know that I'm in the US and I will ship to you if it's allowed by law in both our countries. You will be charged additional shipping cost no matter what is stated in the shipping costs section above.

Returns will only be accepted if item is not as described and must be made within 10 days of shipping and with prior approval. Buyer pays return shipping AND insurance if item was insured to you.

Buyer is required to notify me within two days of final bid of your payment intentions. Buyer will prepay by certified check, money order, or through PayPal within 7 days of the end of the auction. All items will be shipped within 2 business days after payment is received. THANKS FOR LOOKING!
